FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE January 29 2012

Charity Dinner To Support Police Foundation

PALM BEACH GARDENS, FL (January 29, 2012) –The Palm Beach Gardens Police Foundation announced today that Renowned Chef Tyson Mutchler of Brio Tuscan Grille will be teaming up with the Police Foundation for a Community Cares Charity Chef Dinner & Auction on Thursday, February 16, 2012.

The event will be hosted at Brio Tuscan Grille at The Gardens Mall and will feature a 6-course wine paired dinner and charity auction. The evening will begin with a Lunetta, Prosecco toast at 7 p.m. and will conclude six-courses later with a culinary finale!

The event, taking place on Thursday, February 16, 2012, will include special guest Police Chief Stephen J. Stepp and some of the Foundation Board members including Ken Kennerly Executive Director of The Honda Classic, Charlie Gusmano CEO of Southern Waste Systems, Jim McCarten, General Manager of The Gardens Mall and of course, Michial Rachaner, General Manager of Brio. It will also feature a top level charity auction where you can bid on some top items going up for bid. Auction bids will also support the Police Foundation.

Among the many luxury items for auction will be an extraordinary 4-some of golf at the Old Palm Golf Course here in Palm Beach Gardens, a 30-minute helicopter tour of the finest golf courses in northern Palm Beach County, a 4-some at the Hobe Sound Golf Club in Hobe Sound and many many more exciting items.

The cost for this outstanding 6-course all-inclusive wine dinner is $100 per person and is limited to 80 guests. 50% of the proceeds will be contributed directly to the Palm Beach Gardens Police Foundation and therefore is a tax-deductible contribution.
