Palm Beach Gardens Police Foundation Begins Annual Fund Drive

The annual drive to raise funds in support of the Palm Beach Gardens Police Department began last week when a letter was received by each resident and local business asking for their support again in 2013.

The campaign was originated and is directed by the Palm Beach Gardens Police Foundation, a local non-profit group and the only organization authorized to solicit contributions on behalf of police activities in Palm Beach Gardens.

“We established the Palm Beach Gardens Police Foundation in 2007 and have conducted a fund drive every year since. We are very appreciative of the support received from the community.” said Tom Murphy, Foundation President. “As a result of these generous donations we are able to make significant grants to help support the equipment, training and technology needs of the Police Department as well as community outreach and youth programs that build a positive relationship between the Police Department and the young people of our city.”

The Mission of the Palm Beach Gardens Police Foundation is to secure private funding to enhance the safety of our community and the effectiveness of the Police Department.

“Our organization is a non-profit entity with IRS 501(c)(3) status,” Mr. Murphy said “that means that funds contributed by our residents and businesses are tax-deductible to the extent allowed by law. There are no paid employees and we do not engage any outside marketing agencies to solicit funds on our behalf.”
